

public digital

Health Education England

NHS

NHS

Key reflections from the Digital Boards programme – what we have heard from trust leaders

Saffron Cordery, deputy chief executive, NHS Providers
Digital Health Rewired 2022

DIGITAL
BOARDS

Recovery

- Remaining responsive in terms of Covid-19 prevention and treatment
- Using digital to help "build back fairer" for groups who were disproportionately impacted
- Looking after the workforce and combatting staff burnout

Capacity and demand

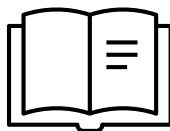

- Using digital ways of working to free up capacity as the sector responds to high levels of demand
- Working with system partners to deploy population health management tools to support prevention

Transformation

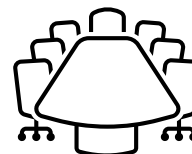

- Building on successes to achieve truly transformational changes
- Changing organisational culture, processes and operating models
- Aligning digital transformation and quality improvement approaches

Engagement with
1,500 attendees at over
194 trusts

4 Leadership Guides
published alongside other resources

59 bespoke board
development sessions

21 events peer learning events

1. Digital is more than just the technology
2. Boards are managing risk more strategically
3. There is collective ownership of the digital agenda
4. Boards are getting closer to the digital user experience
5. Digital is becoming more integrated within wider strategies
6. Trust leaders are rising to the challenge of system working
7. Board leaders are more confidently prioritising work
8. Trusts are investing in cross-functional multidisciplinary teams
9. Boards are exploring the connection between the digital and quality improvement agendas

1. Supporting boards to explore the relationship between improvement approaches and digital transformation and capitalise on existing transformation capabilities
2. Supporting boards to harness digital ways of working as part of their recovery efforts
3. Supporting Integrated Care Boards to increase their confidence and capability to deliver digital transformation at a system level

Hear from three trust leaders who will share their reflections on building board leadership of the digital agenda

National policy stage at 11:30am today

Tom Loosemore, Public Digital

Alex Whitfield, Hampshire Hospitals NHS FT

Liz Romaniak, Tees, Esk and Wear Valley NHS FT

Liz Davenport, Torbay and South Devon, NHS FT

Interested in a board session? Speak to a member of the team.

“The best organised, formatted, presented and co-ordinated board development session we have ever had. Tremendously impressive.”

Noel Scanlon, director of nursing, County Durham & Darlington NHS Foundation Trust